Overview

The file `.novadiff-graph/config.json` has been deleted.

All four lines that composed the file – the opening brace, `autoUpdate`, `outputLanguage`, and the closing brace – are gone (L1-L4 removed).

Key changes

- File removal: `./novadiff-graph/config.json` no longer exists in the repository.
- Removed configuration keys: `autoUpdate` and `outputLanguage` were the only keys in the file.
- No fallback configuration is provided by this file.

Impact

- Any code that imports or reads `./novadiff-graph/config.json` will encounter a missing-file error unless it handles the absence.
- The repository no longer exposes a JSON configuration for auto-update or language; downstream logic must rely on hard-coded defaults or environment variables (unknown from the available diff/scan evidence).
- Build scripts, Dockerfiles, or CI pipelines that referenced the file may fail; verify that no such references remain.

Risks & follow-ups

- Runtime failure: Modules importing the removed file will throw an error; review imports and add error handling.
- Default behavior drift: Ensure that any implicit defaults match the previous explicit settings; run tests that assert default behavior (unknown from the available diff/scan evidence).
- CI pipeline: Confirm that build scripts no longer reference the deleted file.
- Documentation: Update any README or internal docs that mention the config file.
